Dear Mr. Wilgus,

I'm sorry I can't afford the review copies you ask of the older books. In time they will be out of print and the income from them, slight as it is, is the only income I have.

Mae's bibliography is dated on Frame-Up. Dutton hasn't distributed it for three years. I have all the existing copies.

When Mae prepared her biblio she did not know of the fourth of the Whitewash series because it had not appeared. It is new and the straight press is paying for copies.

I do not consider what I do "conspiracy journalism." I consider it straight investigating, straight research and straight writing.

Readers are intelligent enough to draw their own conclusions. I provide them the facts and the evidence upon which they can base their own conclusions.

I do not give them conclusions or opinion as "facts."

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
